shaping identity.

Reimann Architecture creates contemporary architecture, interiors and product design.
We design homes and create identity-centric public spaces from the inside to the

COMPANY PROFILE

Reimann Architecture is an interdisciplinary and internationally operating design studio with offices in Hamburg und Munich. We develop and implement architecture and interior projects of different sizes in the sectors office, hospitality, residential and retail.

Our approach to architecture and interiors is holistic und multidisciplinary. As a full-service provider our projects are individually customized, which makes it possible to cooperate closely with our customers. Our team consists of designers, architects and engineers who ensure that each step of the project plan is perfectly coordinated - from the concept to the construction. This strategy enables us to work according to our core philosophy:

"We create projects from the inside to the outside."

For realizing all of our projects and product designs we work together with carefully selected craft companies and partners. We design furniture, materials and accessories, which blend seamlessly into their surroundings and bring the initial intention of a space to the fore.

"A space itself inspires me to create objects for its ambience."

At each of our steps, we attach high importance to sustainability and quality in the value chain. Our design expresses the evolution of creativity, design and technical innovation. We are confident that sustainable concepts with a strong identity can only arise out of an open dialogue between our clients and our team.

IN GOOD HANDS

Unique projects come from unique people. It is our aim to constantly improve. We are a team of six people consisting of architects, interior architects, designers, project managers and office managers.

We believe in our challenging vision to develop individual concepts, whose beauty and sustainability touches and enriches people and our society.

PHILOSOPHY

REFLECTIVE

Inspirations turn into ideas. They progress into concepts and result in projects – everything is mutually dependent. We reconsider our solution and planning approaches constantly. The outcome is a well thought concept customised to the desires of our clients.

ENTHUSIASTIC

Our dedication and enthusiasm for every project is a driver for achieving top performances every day. We stand for the love of design and openness - everything is possible. Every project starts with a blank piece of paper and our attitude to take unique paths. This individual approach sparks emotions with our customers.

INNOVATIVE

We take an innovative approach – an approach that leads from the inside to the outside. Our planning is always based on the desires and demands of our customers on a space and its use. The dimensions of a space are tailored to the furniture. This results in an individually aligned floor plan.

"The inside determines the outside."

MINDFUL

Our highest priority is to create a pleasant environment for people. We empathize with our clients, listen to them, identify their needs and convince them with aesthetic interior. Mindfulness for us also means to deal with current developments in the society, to detect changes and to shape those changes. Those new influences are reflected in our design.

ACCOUNTABLE

We attach high importance to a fair value chain with outlasting quality materials, moving away from "disposable" design. The consequences are economic, resource-friendly building and sustainable design. We also stand for entrepreneurial responsibility towards our employees, but also towards all people and companies involved in the processes.

NOSY

We are open for the concerns of our clients but also for new developments in the society. Each of our projects starts with impartial curiosity and the passion to experiment with new design approaches or materials. Therefore we work intensively on every project and investigate to the smallest detail.

NOTEWORTHY

Having dealt intensively with the expectations and needs of our customers, we can develop individual design concepts. All of our design concepts convey individuality and underline the identity and character of our clients.

"Good design is three-dimensional marketing. "

JULIUS REIMANN

Beauty and aesthetics can be found everywhere. Everything can be a source of inspiration. However, it needs a sharp eye and a creative mind to turn inspirations into creations. Already in his youth, Julius Reimann was fascinated by composition and design and discovered his talent and passion for drawing. During his studies in interior design he worked at different renowned design studios and gathered practical experience. With his distinct perceptiveness and his sense for zeitgeist, he soon realized that the common approach to architecture needs to be reconsidered.

„He stands for the innovative approach to think from the inside to the outside of a building.“

This individual approach moves our clients and triggers emotions.

IMPLEMENTATION PLANNING

Our basis for a successful implementation of a project is the intensive and continuous coordination between building services, kitchen engineers, structural architects and consultants. We support and manage every process step starting with the design planning up to the implementation planning and beyond. This results in precise planning documents, which ensure a successful realisation of the project.

“A blue print shows talent, the implementation proofs an artist.“
